Alps Alpine Recognized as Stellantis' North American Supplier of the Year

Alps Alpine Co., Ltd. (Headquartered in Ota-ku, Tokyo; President & CEO: Hideo Izumi; hereinafter "Alps Alpine") has received the 2026 Stellantis Supplier of the Year – North America award at the 2026 Stellantis Global Supplier Conference held in Detroit, Michigan.

The event brought together more than 800 supplier representatives and senior leaders from around the world to discuss future product, technology, quality, and business priorities, while recognizing suppliers demonstrating exceptional performance, innovation, and partnership in support of Stellantis' long-term growth strategy.

Stellantis has been an important customer to Alps Alpine, and this recognition reinforces our appreciation for the trust and collaboration that have shaped our relationship. Alps Alpine looks forward to building on this foundation for many years to come.

Comment from Robert Hill, Vice President, Americas Business

"We are deeply honored to receive this prestigious recognition from Stellantis. Above all, this award belongs to the Alps Alpine employees whose commitment to quality, innovation and customer support makes achievements like this possible. It is also a reminder of the responsibility that comes with being recognized by one of the world's leading automakers. We will continue challenging ourselves to anticipate changing mobility needs, bring forward meaningful technologies and deliver the performance our customers expect every day."
